

ZZZZ388 - Validation of selective projection with the nodes of a field of internal variables

Summary:

This test does not have any physical meaning, it is primarily a data-processing test.

Its goal is to test projection with the nodes of a field of internal variables while having selected certain components as a preliminary.

This documentation is voluntarily brief.